FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DATE OF ISSUE: MONDAY 2ND MARCH 2009

‘RAREBIT’ OF WELSH CUISINE AT DAVINCI RESTAURANT!

In honour of St David's day, Yeovil College's DaVinci Restaurant will be offering a special lunchtime menu of Welsh cuisine this week.

St David, or Dewi Sant as he is called in Welsh, is the patron saint of Wales. He is most closely associated with the city of St David's, although he is also believed to have founded religious institutions in Glastonbury and Croyland near Peterborough. Today, many celebrate his feast day on 1st March by wearing a daffodil or leek or even Welsh national dress.

A specially selected menu of Welsh regional dishes has been chosen for this week's DaVinci menu. Diners can sample cawl lufwr (laver soup), selsig Morgannwg (Glamorgan sausages), pastai oen Cymreig (Welsh lamb pie), pwddin y gororau (Welsh boarder pudding) – and of course caws-wedi-pobi (Welsh rarebit)!

Tables can be booked Monday, Wednesday or Friday between 12pm and 1pm. A full three course meal is just £6 per person. All the meals are made and served by our Level 2 and 3 Cookery students, with full supervision and guidance from teaching staff.

Hospitality lecturer Steven Lowrie said “This is a great opportunity for our students and customers to try something different. There are some classic Welsh dishes on the menu, all of which will be made using excellent local ingredients. I am sure all customers will be delighted with their food, as well as the professional service they receive, and come back to another of our special events later this year.”

To book a table, telephone the DaVinci Restaurant on 01935 845341, or visit the website, www.yeovil.ac.uk/davinci\_restaurant.htm.
